

Charlie Harjo on his Fiatallis FR10. When Keith Wirths Excavating went looking for a new wheel loader, expert operator Charlie Harjo was given the opportunity to decide which brand they wanted. Charlie tried a Cat, a Clark, an International, and a Fiatallis FR10. We think Charlie made a good decision.

Keith Wirths Excavating

KEITH WIRTHS IS IN A "DIRTY" BUSINESS. He keeps his work pretty much out of sight. You might say underground. And where Keith Wirths performs there's always a cover-up involved.

Before the local television people get excited, maybe we should explain. Keith Wirths digs basements. Hundreds of basements. And he's been doing it successfully in Wichita and the surrounding area for almost a decade.

Sixty percent of the houses in Tallgrass are sitting on basements dug by Keith Wirths Excavating. Fifty percent in Comotara.

Keith Wirths

Keith Wirths' construction career started 25 years ago. He has been on his own since the beginning, first in the construction of small commercial buildings in Wichita, then eventually specializing in excavation work connected with major housing developments. Like any construction company, Keith has seen his go through good years, and not so good years. With construction markets that inevitably go up and down faster than a roller coaster, Keith has held on tight through the years and ridden out the storms.

"It's a funny business," says Keith. "Last year we had one of our best years but so far this year it looks like we'll be lucky to call it mediocre."

Fiatallis equipment is no stranger to Keith Wirths. He's used Allis loaders for years. He likes the power, the break-out force, the short turning radius, and the reliability found in Fiatallis machines. They currently own and operate a Fiatallis FR10 and a Fiatallis 545B.

Sellers Tractor Company is proud of our association with Keith Wirths Excavating. We are proud to be able to say they are one of our customers, one of our "Big Bosses".
